Detailed Visa Appointment Procedure

Detailed Visa Appointment Procedure ^[1]

Country:

United States

Appointments' procedures for all non-immigrant visas are the same. This is from my personal experience in Nov 2005.

Step 1.

Make the two payments - either by DD or cash at the designated branch of HDFC bank. Take copy of passport along. Get receipt of the payment. There'll be a barcode sticker on the receipt which will also have the number which will be your receipt no. for all future references. This can be done by the individual applying for the visa or any representative but should carry the Passport copy of the individual travelling.

Step 2.

Wait for two days. Be patient, dont do this before 2 business days. Then go online to <http://www.vfs-usa.co.in> ^[2] and click on "apply for a non-immigrant visa". Fill up all the details to create a new application. You will not see emergency dates, instead you will see the regular available dates only. If you are applying fir emergency situation, dont worry - complete the form(s) and at the end you'll see a button for "Emergency" application. Note that you must fall under the emergency appointments criteria which I am listing at the end of this posting. Choose the type of emergency and then you will see the earliest available EMERGENCY Dates.

Once you are done getting the dates, remember to fill the DS156, DS157, etc. forms online itself. Remember that for address on the forms give your permanent India address.

Step 3.

Fill out all the forms and gather documents. Note - these are documents for getting appointment and not the ones to take for the interview. These are:

a> Valid passport.

b> One photograph as per specification (note, mumbai's VFS has a photo booth inside the office so no need to get it done before hand although I'd advice to carry your copy)

c> Original signed form DS-156 (printout from the web) (remember to print this form back-to back on one page only)

d> Original form DS-157 (printout from the web)

e> Original form DS-158, if applicable (printout from the web)

f> Original, valid HDFC Bank visa fee receipt

g> Demand draft for Issuance Fee (has to be DD, no cash here)

h> Appointment letter (printout from the web)

This has to be done 5 days before the appointment

Step 4

Go to consulate for interview (do not carry any bags or any other stuff except your papers in a plastic bag.) Nothing digital NOT EVEN DIGITAL WATCHES (I had to give away mine to a stranger for fear of losing my appointment)

Step 5

If approved pick up the passport the same evening at VFS center or get it in courier in a few days. I'd suggest if its so much an emergency, pickup personally, dont depend on the courier.

Step 6 Optional

Relax and have an ice-cream at a nice restaurant

NOTE these are steps for online processing. If you are anti-internet and want to do it personally then skip Step 2. Instead fill out the DS forms personally. Then in step 3 carry all these documents and personally go to VFS to schedule an appointment as well as submit the documents. Now here since you've not scheduled your appointment, you'll have to do this as early as possible.

(Dis)Advantages?? Not aware of but here's what happened to me. I scheduled my emergency appointment online and then went to VFS requesting an even earlier date and the person over the counter said that since I got the appointment online, there's nothing that they can do. Now, I don't know and am not sure if had I scheduled the appointment personally, would they have been able to help me out.

I'd suggest (and my personal suggestion) if you stay nearby (say in and around Mumbai) do it personally, I feel that gives you more control - Probably. If its online I guess, it directly goes into system. BUT on the other hand online is clean, simple and less hassle.
