O1 followed by EB1 - Outstanding Researcher

O1 followed by EB1 - Outstanding Researcher ^[1]

Submitted by Chief Editor on Jan 1st 2001

We first obtained an O1 for this applicant by identifying his talents and expertise to be a cut-above his colleagues with similar educational and work experience. This applicant received a prestigious international award which set him apart from other research scientists in his field. He was noted for ground-breaking work in drug addiction research. We obtained recommendation letters from world experts and they noted that this applicant was one of the few researchers in the field who had achieved the highest level of success and had become a world leader in drug abuse research. We later filed and won an EB1 - Outstanding Researcher case for this applicant based on the same findings. Additional current recommendation letters were sought and submitted along with an offer of employment letter from his current employer.
